

Cardiovascular Logistics Appoints Kristen Richards as Vice President of Ambulatory Care

HOUMA, LA (July 29, 2024) – Cardiovascular Logistics (CVL), the most comprehensive cardiovascular platform in the country, announced today the appointment of Kristen Richards as Vice President of Ambulatory Care. In her new role, Kristen will provide support, leadership, and expertise to CVL’s cardiac catheterization labs, ambulatory service centers (ASCs), and office-based labs (OBLs). Her extensive operational experience and value-based care (VBC) expertise will be invaluable assets to CVL’s partner practices.

Richards is uniquely qualified for this newly created executive role at CVL having spent the past 20 years working in healthcare, including her most recent role as VP of Cardiovascular Operations for Atlas Healthcare Partners. In this position, she was responsible for managing the operations and finances for Atlas’ cardiovascular ASCs, achieving significant cost savings and improving productivity. She also served as Senior Health Economics Manager at Philips Healthcare and Director of Cardiovascular Services at Banner Heart Hospital in Mesa, Ariz.

“We are thrilled to welcome Kristen to this new position on the CVL team,” said David Konur, CEO of CVL. “Her track record of success and established network within the healthcare industry make her an ideal fit for our organization. I look forward to working with her to lead our ASC and OBL staff across the country as they provide the highest quality cardiovascular care available.”

“I am honored to join CVL and contribute to the continued growth and success of the platform,” Richards said. “I look forward to leveraging my healthcare experience and relationships to lead CVL’s ASCs and OBLs, collaborate with hospitals, and explore opportunities to improve efficiency and streamline care delivery.”

Richards holds a bachelor’s degree in respiratory therapy from Northern Arizona University and an MBA in healthcare administration from Grand Canyon University.
